THE CAREERVISIONS INSTITUTE

The CareerVisions Institute (CVI) is the program model of CareerVisions, Ltd. The goal of CVI is to support youth in defining and pursuing their career ambitions. CVI will provide engaging career exploration activities to students throughout New York City.

THE CAREERVISIONS MODEL

CVI will engage participating students and their parents/guardians in defining and pursuing their career ambitions through the CareerVisions Model. The CareerVisions Model is an approach to engage students in identifying, analyzing and addressing their social issues of concern.

Each CareerVisions lesson is designed as a dynamic integration of critical questions, interesting activities and researched references. In practice, CareerVisions is applied to areas of interests identified and selected by the students. Students examine the people, places, technology and trends of their selected areas of interest, and then engage their community in sharing everything they learned.

As part of CVI, additional activities will be offered to engage students in the program. Depending on students' interest and the available space, these activities may include, dance, basketball and art. In addition to being engaged in club-specific exercises, competitions, projects and performances, students will learn about careers related to their clubs; they will also learn about ways to address identified needs of their community.
